

Drive-In Theater To Open Tonight

The new "Ranch" drive-in theater, located 1 mile west of Iowa State College at the Boone-Story county lines on U. S. Highway 30, will open tonight at 6:30.

The mayors of the two largest towns in this trade territory, Frank Ganoë of Boone and W. Allen of Ames, will officiate at the ribbon cutting ceremony at the entrance to the "Ranch" tonight at 6:45.

The new out-door theater will accommodate 750 cars and will be equipped with all the latest projection and sound equipment. The scientifically constructed ramps at the "Ranch" will insure an unobstructed view of the huge screen from any seat in the car. An individual in-car speaker is provided for each car. The occupants can regulate the volume to their own personal desire.

A large concession stand, located in the center of ramp No. 4, will dispense hot and cold drinks, popcorn, sandwiches, candy, and even bottle warmers for the mother who brings her new baby.

Two performances will be given nightly, one at dusk, and the second at 10 p.m.
